Fake, yes, you are right; but I realized that some 10 years ago I absolutely rejected these programs, now I can accept them. I think I took the "fake" part seriously, now I put it aside and I observe the "real thing", the phenomena that tell a lot about people and culture.

ä¾œ!è~i¼œ in one of the episodes they kept on talking of the boy's habit of drinking, he and a girl drank a pint of beer on stage, that could not happen in Europe.

Funny contradiction; real equality between women and men would arrive when the same show with 24 men and one woman will be accepted and popular as well.
