hi sis geo....long time no see...happy chinese new year!

in the qualities and attributes of a villain...i think you forgot to list "liars"...not just people who tell lies once in a while...but a person who intends to deceive...like for example..their age...btw, i hate liars...

in "beat-up the villain"...will it work better if you have a picture of them...? :p

you know i was over in ECT the other day.....i saw the exact same article there as this one here by a person named viceroy...i thought he was you...but when i looked at his profile at english.asia....then i knew he wasn't..cause he listed himself as a christian....and we all know you are a buddhist...i guess you two are friends...:)

Happy New Year too ...

Cyber World is a place where the truths are sometimes lies and vice versa. So long as one does not harm or injure others, or has no evil intentions, let him/her be of any religion. It doesn't really matter.
Don't take it too seriously, lady. Everyone lies at one point or another, so those who hate liars love themselves and hate the world ...

And in this statement of yours ...

"in "beat-up the villain"...will it work better if you have a picture of them...?"

I believe in this ... â¹³æ™, ä, •ä½œè™šâ¿fäº‘ â€•â••Šâœæ•²é—€â¿fä, •é©š! So let the lecher and his stooges worry about things ba.

The conspiracy is beginning to unfold ...
