Ha-ha, ok, I agree, that is really discrimination... Though "El Nino" may have been the most famous one...

Don't you know by chance how the Asian names are ordered? In the American continent the names adjusted in alphabetical order. Thus in January you can find hurricanes starting with "a" or "b" etc. Usagi, I guess, is for あまのうさぎ in Japanese.

I see you have that beautiful chicken there... The same one as in Hong Kong or every city in the Pacific has one?

(Anyway, a film a really like takes place in your city. Maybe you have seen it, あまのうさぎ, あまのうさぎ, あまのうさぎ, )
