I'm afraid HK situation is quite different. Despite this demondtration most of the Hungaian society backs the government, which is a shame, but no doubt, a fact. Unfortunately I am not in the capitaly, otherwise I would take part in...

Well, there said to be set an upper limit, 700 HUF per month (2.20 euros) regardless the amount of downloads, but the whole idea is ridiculous... I myself think it is a kind of punishment on internet users, as netizens are mostly against the government. - Taxing the net is like selling out the future...

Anyway, I follow HK events on cnd.org, it's professional how the mainland media manipulate the mainlanders...
