

Forum: Common English Questions

Topic:

Subject:

Posted by: gogogo

Posted on: 2006/3/8 19:37:09

Ying asked Tim an English question about how to say "just what I want" in English in the classroom. And I think maybe others want to know it, too. SO I took a note and posted it here.

It concurs with me.

just what I want

just like what I want

just like what I thought just what I had(have)in mind

If you have other expressions about "just what I want". Please post it here and share with us.