

Forum: Idioms and Proverbs 論壇: 俗語和諺語

Topic: Bite somebody's head off

Subject: Bite somebody's head off

Posted by: Tim Luo

Posted on: 2007/10/28 23:16:38

This is a spoken expression used to answer or speak to someone in a very angry way, especially without a good reason.

If Mike's is in a bad mood, you can never tell when he's going to bite your head off.

sorry, Shirley, I didn't mean to bite your head off - can you wait a few minutes while I finish this report?

Source: Longman Idioms Dictionary