I know I have personally have felt many of the feelings you wrote about and I am sure many others have felt the happiness and or the sadness of love.

I hope that our members will always find happiness. I also hope that they will post their poems or letters for others to read. I know that some of you are shy and would not post love poems or letters, so if you wish to post them but not use your ID, you can send them to eastcoastusa1@yahoo.com and I will post them for youâ€¦ as a member poem.
