How to save your money on valentine's Day?

There are many ways such as writing a poem ,letter ...and so on.

Below is a tip,teaching us how to write a poem.

Write A Love Poem

The underlying basis of a love poem is to convey your amorous feelings towards another person. In this light, there is no wrong or right way to write a poem. If you keep this in mind, you'll find writing your poem will be a more enjoyable experience overall.

To begin with you'll need to note down the following:

Reasons why you love your partner

Specific physical qualities you love about your partner. For instance, their deep, blue eyes.

What they have provided for you. Example: Your constant support and encouragement has given me the wings to fly.

Any special words you call each other.

What specific message you are ultimately trying to convey with your poem. For example, my life would be nothing without you, thank you for being in my life, etc.

Tone of your poem. For instance, humorous, sentimental, etc.

You will also need access to a thesaurus, dictionary and a rhyming dictionary if you want your poem to rhyme. You can find these tools online at the following links:

RhymeZone

Now that you have the data and ideas you need, you can begin structuring your poem. If you're a novice poet, start first with a rhyming poem. By now you should have some lines already written out. Put them in an order that flows and then fill in the rest with sentences that rhyme.

When you're done, read the poem aloud. You will most likely find a few spots that don't flow properly. Make your changes and read the poem aloud again. Continue doing this until the poem is easily read. Remember, a poem is a personal gift from the heart. As long as you are conveying an overall thought or idea it will be received with much pleasure.

Enhance your love poem!

Write it in calligraphy.

Use romantic stationary.

Spray it with your perfume or cologne.

Put it in a love card.

Leave it on your love's pillow with a rose
