Sorry, folks, I still hold on to the fact that "bugs", as a name to a party game, is acceptable here in our word game. But, in order to avoid further controversy and have our game being held at a standstill for too long, I'm changing my entry of "bugs" to "tugs". So, next please.

- 701. glotynn - haka, woke, bion, fuze
- 702. futari - hasa, wove, cion, fuzz
- 703. geoette - hala, wive, chon, futz
- 704. glotynn - hola, dive, cuon, fitz
- 705. geoette - hora, hive, cyon, fizz
- 706. menquart - hara, rive, dyon, dizz
- 707. geoette - hapa, rife, lyon, zizz
- 708. futari - napa, life, byon, hizz
- 709. geoette - napu, fife, byou, jizz
- 710. futari - kapu, five, byor, jazz
- 711. geoette - kupu, cive, byer, razz
- 712. glotynn - pupu, cuve, bier, tazz
- 713. geoette - zupu, cute, boer, tuzz
- 714. futari - zulu, lute, bour, buzz
- 715. geoette - bulu, lote, tour, huzz
- 716. glotynn - budu, loth, cour, hugz
- 717. geoette - buru, loti, dour, hugs
- 718. futari - kuru, roti, doer, "tugs" ==> revised
- 719. geoette - kuzu, roty, does, pugs

By the way, should "Hugs" be considered as an "acronym" then? And "Hugz", a proper noun?

==> HUGS ('H'askell 'U'ser's 'G'ofer 'S'ystem) (also Hugs 98) is a bytecode interpreter for the functional programming language Haskell.

==> Made in the USA, "Hugz" launched with an initial line of 18 every occasion cards which are sold throughout the United States and as far and wide as Australia and the Middle East.
