Futari,

I knew what you meant!

A student wants to design a class T-shirt and he asked me whether the slogan is appropriate or not. It is really weird as you said. Do you think this one "Unity is power" would be better as a slogan, or do you have other better ones in mind?

Thank you!

What's the motive of designing the class t-shirt? For morale rousing? For keep sake? One has to know the main theme first before one can suggest anything that is appropriate.
