Standing guard by the army must be a special cultural event ... one of my friends read the most strange things during his time by the German army ... even some old texts from J. Stalin ... I think ... (I hope ) ... just for provocation ~~~

That's great, Dagege! So you were not tricked by "luring girls" in the 5th district (the innermost part of Pest) - newspapaers are full of these cases nowadays.

When I was at the army (as it was an obligation) I learnt most of his greatest poems by heart standing guard.

You picked the right site, there you can find all of his poems.

One of my personal favourites is "A DunÃ;nÃ;l". The second verse (numbered as '2') is quite mystical... --- I don't know if you've seen his statue - it is made for this poem:

Maybe I am wrong... Not easy to translate poems, I guess. I simply don't feel in the English version what I see in the original...

Interesting, for a long-long time I have not read his poems... All of a sudden it touched me...

ESZMÁ%LET (1934)

Vasárnap lakom. Erre sok vonat jár-megy és el-előzem, hogy' szállnak fűnyes ablakok
a lengedező' szűsz-sűtőben.
Igy iramlanak árárk ájben kivilágított nappalok
s én álllok minden félke-fűnyben, én kényelők és hallgatók.
