Here we go again...

I found a summary of conspiracy theories (é™°è—è«— (yin1mou2lun4)) about the lost plane. If you don't feel like reading the whole article just take a look at the list below:

- 1.The plane could be in Taliban-controlled regions;
- 2.Chinese satellites spotted the wreckage (what would be the conspiracy here?...);
- 3.â€žI saw the plane coming downâ€• (Mike McKay's letter â€“ he eye-witnessed something burning);
- 4.5 hours of radio silence (this isn't a â€žconspiracy theoryâ€• either...);
- 5.Terrorists crashed it;
- 6.Passangers' phones are still ringing (something I have not heard of before: â€žApparently even if the phone in question is in airplane mode -- or is off or terminally broken -- it may still ring on the caller's end, despite there technically being no chance of it being connected.â€•);
- 7.The invisible aircraft: the plane was taken below the radars to Vietnam â€“ a company named Freescale is mentioned here (worths browsing for it...);
- 8.MH370 exploded mid-air;
- 9.In the jungles and waters of Vietnam;
- 10.Pilot committed suicide;
- 11.Aliens kidnapped the plane...
