I saw the movie "Bridget Diary" on HBO today because someone said it is a famous movie.

The girl misunderstood the leading man who didnt love her anymore. But actually the leading man loved her and he help that girl a lot clandestinely. Finally the girl was awared of that he still love her,just didnt speak it out. So she tried to go to find her true love back.

In the movie, the girl is a bit dreaminess. But She is positive for her life. There are many things happened in life, Maybe using a positive way to face it is not bad.

For the character of the leading man in the movie,he didnt know how to show his love to the girl he likes, and within an ace of losing his ture love.
