I watched the movie "Bridget Diary" on HBO today because it's said it's a famous movie.

The girl misunderstood the leading man and thought he didn't love her anymore. The fact was that the leading man still loved her and constantly helped her out of lots of troubles. Finally, the girl was aware of his true love and realized an old saying "Actions speak louder than words". Therefore, she tried her best to win back her true love.

In the movie, the girl had been always confused and made lots of mistakes. However, she had been positive in life. There were ups and downs so it's wise to live a positive life.

The movie also revealed the fact that If a man truly loves a woman, speaks it out loud and takes actions immediately. Time and tide waits for no man.
